

Rockwall ISD Digital Media Fair Parent Permission Form

Rockwall ISD will soon be hosting its second annual Digital Media Fair on January 24, 2008. This is an exciting opportunity for your child's innovation using digital media to be recognized. Awards will be given in four different categories. Additional information about the Digital Media Fair can be found on the Internet at www.rockwallits.com.

In order to submit your child's entry for judging, parent permission must be granted. Please check below to grant or deny permission for entry into the Digital Media Fair. If selected as a district-level winning entry, your child's technology project may be on public display at the fair and on the RISD Website. Projects posted to the RISD Website will include student first name only for elementary students, student first name and last initial for middle school students and student first and last name for high school students.

Please return the bottom portion of this permission form no later than 4:00PM, January 7 to the campus Instructional Technology Specialist (or their designated representative).
